MILANZI

Creater of milkshakelab.net

PROFILE

Let me tell you a bit about myself I am Web Developer with 1 year experience working as a Junior Developer at Digital Unlocked and I am also the founder of milkshakelab.net a math learning platform/website built using Laravel 8, SASS, JavaScript and MySQL. The platform aims at helping students or users in improving their mathematics skills so they can achieve their dreams. I personally believe code should be used to give value to people by doing so we can improve our communities for the better. Moreover, it's my everyday mission to better my programming skills which will allow me to build more reliable technologies and also, I wish to explore more in the working environment as a developer. Any response will be a way forward.
